CM chairs first Hill Temple Authority Meeting

'Transfer all Hill Temple assets to Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority'

Royal family objects to conduct of meeting as High Court stay is in force

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BLU&BCT)- Chief Minister Siddaramaiah held the first meeting of Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority at Dasoha Bhavan atop the Hill this morning.

The CM was scheduled to arrive at 10 am but reached the Hill Temple at 11.15 am. The delay was due to the temple's closure following the death of Nagenna of Chamundi Hill village last night. According to local customs, the temple remains closed if a death occurs in the village and reopens only after the body is moved out for the last rites.

When the temple gates reopened, the CM's convoy entered the premises at 11.15 am. Siddaramaiah then proceeded to the sanctum sanctorum, where he spent over 20 minutes offering special prayers to the deity.

MUDA 50:50 site scam

Former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar SUSPENDED

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BCT)- In a significant development surrounding the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) scam, which has placed the Karnataka Congress Government under the scanner, former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar, appointed Registrar of Haveri University on Aug. 29, has been suspended from service.

A Government Order dated Aug. 31, 2024, signed by Umadevi, Under Secretary to the Department of Administrative and Personnel Reforms (DPAR), confirms Dinesh Kumar's suspension pending a departmental inquiry.

G.T. Dinesh Kumar

Public and political circles erupted in outrage after the State Government appointed Dinesh Kumar to a top University administrative position, despite serious allegations of corruption and misconduct.

Dinesh Kumar was transferred from MUDA on July 1, after the Urban Development Minister ordered an inquiry into irregularities in site allotments under the 50:50 ratio scheme. Although transferred, no new posting had been assigned to him until his appointment as Haveri University's Registrar on Aug. 29.

RTI activist reports attempt to assault

Seeks Police protection amid MUDA land scam exposé

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (RK&DM)- RTI activist N. Gangaraju, who had earlier sought Police protection due to a threat to his life, has lodged an online complaint with the Mysuru City Police Commissioner regarding an attempted assault and threats made against him by some miscreants while he was returning to Mysuru from Turuvekere on Sept. 1.

In his complaint filed on Sept. 1, Gangaraju, a resident of KHB Colony in Kuvempunagar, reported that he and his family travelled to Turuvekere for personal reasons on the morning of Sept. 1. On their return that evening, he noticed that they were being followed by two unidentified miscreants on a two-wheeler with no licence plate.

The miscreants attempted to waylay his car by signalling him to pull over at the Pandavapura-Srirangapatna border. Sensing danger, Gangaraju continued driving without stopping, with the miscreants in pursuit.

As he reached the Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway, the miscreants took advantage of the heavy traffic to follow him closely. At one point, they positioned themselves in front of his car, trying to force him to stop and threatening him loudly. They also attempted to assault him and his family members inside the car. Despite these attempts, he managed to reach Mysuru safely.

He stated in his complaint that this attack is linked to his ongoing efforts to expose the site allotment scams in MUDA , for which he has been regularly releasing documents as evidence.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

DEVOTION WITH SINCERITY: God likes simplicity, and it is simple to worship Him. What He expects from us is an unremitting devotion. Valayapettai Sri Ramachariar said in a discourse that Lord Krishna tells Arjuna that whoever offers Him with true devotion, a leaf, a flower, a fruit, or some water (patram, pushpam, phalam, toyam — Bhagavad Gita Chapter 9, Verse 26), He accepts the same with all delight. The verse tells the order of leaf, flower and fruit, as in a plant's natural growth. If any of these are not available, even water can be offered. These are presumed readily available. What is essential is an untainted devotion and not vain showmanship. Draupadi offered a leaf. The elephant Gajendra submitted a lotus. With all humility, Sabari gave fruits, and Acharya Sri Ramanuja fetched water for His pujas.

He is the refuge for all. Those who worship Him with devotion abide in Him, and He abides in them. He does not differentiate by birth, form, nature or knowledge. No one is discarded as an object of odium. He does not distinguish or exercise any partiality between high or low, poor or rich, learned or uneducated, handsome or ugly, tall or short.

Lord Krishna said He was warm-hearted with Akrura and disgusted with Kamsa. Pandavas were His life air, and Duryodhana was His foe. The prime reason was that Pandavas were affectionate towards the Lord and His devotees, while Duryodhana and his men were hateful to Him. —In The Hindu

Museum invites naturism exhibit visitors to disrobe

Marseille (Southern France): A French museum announced members of the public are being invited to view its exhibit on naturism while wearing nothing but a pair of shoes.

Marseille's Museum of European and Mediterranean Civilizations, or Mucem, said nude patrons are being welcomed to peruse the Naturist Paradises exhibit in the nude on designated dates once a month, during a time the facility would normally be closed.

The nude museum visits are being organised in partnership with the French Naturist Federation or FFN. "It was only natural for the Mucem, a social museum based in Marseilles, a Mediterranean city around which several major naturist centres have sprung up, to explore this singular and unifying social phenomenon that is naturism (or rather naturisms, because there are different types)," the museum's website stated.

"I really thought y'all were playing a prank on me, because it couldn't be possible. But this is a miracle in itself," Ravenel told workers at the Charleston Animal Society.

They guided Ravenel to a room where Sam was in a cage. She cried as soon as she saw him.

Change of address in RC: Will RTO Mysuru West clarify?

Sir,

On July 3, 2024, I applied online for a change of address in the RC of my wife's two-wheeler.

On Aug. 2, 2024, it was approved by RTO Mysuru West, and on Aug. 12, my wife received a message stating that the RC was dispatched and could be tracked using Speed Post Tracking No. TA422812537IN.

However, to date, the RC has not been delivered. When I check the Speed Post Tracking, it shows 'consignment details not found.'

I then contacted the Post Office to inquire about the situation. They informed me that the RTO often uploads the Speed Post number in their portal without actually handing over the documents to the Postal Department. Sometimes, these documents are kept for more than a month.

This is disappointing and not what one would expect from a responsible department. I request the RTO Mysuru West to provide clarification and rectify this issue at the earliest.

Chandrayaan-3 success recounted by Dr. P.J. Bhat

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BCT)- GSSS Institute of Engineering and Technology for Women (GSSSIETW), Mysuru, celebrated National Space Day-2024 recently to commemorate India's space achievements, particularly the success of Chandrayaan-3.

India has become the fourth nation to successfully land on Moon and the first to reach South Polar region. This milestone underscores India's growing capabilities in space exploration and seeks to inspire future generations to pursue careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM).

Chief guest Dr. P.J. Bhat, Distinguished Scientist, ISRO/ISAC (Retd.), Bengaluru, recounted the successful landing of the Vikram Lunar Lander on Aug. 23, 2023 — a defining moment for India's space mission.

This achievement not only placed India among an elite group of nations with lunar landing capabilities but also set a new milestone as the first mission to reach the Moon's South Pole. Following the landing, the Pragyan Rover was deployed to explore the lunar surface, and the landing site was named 'Shiv Shakti' Point.

Dr. Bhat also discussed the various phases of Chandrayaan-3's trajectory, including the launch phase, Earth-centric orbit phase, trans-lunar trajectory phase, lunar orbit insertion phase, lunar orbit phase, and lander separation.

He highlighted the challenges of the Chandrayaan-3 mission, such as trajectory accuracy, deep space communication, achieving a soft landing at a precise location, dealing with lunar dust, extreme temperatures, and the orbital environment around the moon.

Following his presentation, Dr. Bhat emphasised the importance of this year's National Space Day theme, "Touching Lives while Touching the Moon: India's Space Saga."

To mark the occasion, a painting competition was held for students of GSSS Bantwal Madhava Shenoy High School, along with a quiz competition on "Achievements of the Indian Space Programme" for students of GSSS Badriprasadji PU College, Siddarthanagar.

Dr. M. Shivakumar, Principal of GSSSIETW, Dr. S. Bellappa, Head, Department of Chemistry, Dr. Vinay Venugopal, Head, Department of Physics, Prof. B. Venkatasesiah, Head, Department of Mathematics, Dr. M. Yogesh, HoD, Mechanical Engineering and others were present.

National Space Day celebrations in city

ISRO Scientist traces India's space journey milestones

Prize winners of National Space Day contests seen with the guests.

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BCT)- The Cosmology Education and Research Training Centre (COSMOS) of the Indian Institute of Astrophysics (IIA), in collaboration with University of Mysore (UoM), celebrated the first National Space Day at Vijnana Bhavan, Manasagangothri. The maiden National Space Day commemorates the successful landing of Chandrayaan-3 on the Moon on Aug. 23, 2023.

Jayasimha, Project Director at UR Rao Satellite Centre (URSC), Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), delivered a lecture titled "The Journey of the Indian Space Programme" in Kannada.

He began his talk with an overview of ISRO's history, emphasising the visionary contributions of Dr. Vikram Sarabhai and the founding of the Physical Research Laboratory (PRL).

He shed light on the selection of Thumba as the initial launch site for ISRO, explaining its strategic location along the Earth's Magnetic Equatorial line, which offers uniform magnetic flux, making it ideal for the Thumba Equatorial Rocket Launching Station (TERLS).

Highlighting ISRO's global standing, Jayasimha underlined that ISRO is among the top space agencies worldwide, boasting full operational capabilities across the Space Segment, Transport Segment, and Ground Segment.

He elaborated on various types of spacecraft, including Communication, Remote Sensing and Special Missions, detailing their vital roles. The development of India's first satellite, Aryabhata, was also discussed, alongside the significant contributions of engineers and scientists like Prof. U.R. Rao, Aravamudham, Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam and C.R. Satya.

He further highlighted how space-based technologies have revolutionised everyday life in India, impacting sectors like Agriculture, Communication, Weather Prediction, Fishing, and Entertainment, proving indispensable in the modern era.

He even provided insights into India's scientific spacecraft, including Astrosat, SRR, the Chandrayaan series, Aditya L1, and the Mars Orbiter Mission, explaining their contributions to expanding scientific knowledge.

Science writer Kollegala Sharma felicitated Jayasimha on behalf of COSMOS-Mysuru, IIA. This was followed by prize distribution to winners of Science Fiction Writing contest and Shoot for the Moon competition, conducted by COSMOS-IIA as part of National Space Day. N. Amoghavarsha, Project Associate of COSMOS-IIA, expressed gratitude to all participants, students, staff and media for making Space Day a success.

ISRO poised to surpass other space agencies: Dr. S.N. Prasad

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BCT)- The Department of Physics at SBRR Mahajana First Grade College celebrated National Space Day in the college quadrangle recently.

The event featured Dr. S.N. Prasad, Former Principal and Professor of Physics at the Regional Institute of Education, Mysuru, as the guest of honour.

Dr. Prasad highlighted the significance of National Space Day, commemorating the successful landing of Chandrayaan-3.

Sharing his personal experiences, he recounted the historic moment when he witnessed the launch of Chandrayaan-3 in Sriharikota and observing solar eclipse in America in 2017.

Praising Indian Space Research Organisation's (ISRO) remarkable achievements, Dr. Prasad noted how India's space agency has risen to compete with global giants like America,

Dr. S.N. Prasad

China and Russia. He reflected on the early challenges faced by ISRO, where spacecraft were once transported on bullock carts, and lauded the country's progress through the adoption of modern technologies.

He emphasised ISRO's ambitious future projects, including the upcoming 'Gaganyaan' mission, which aims to send Indians into space within a few years. He asserted that ISRO is poised to surpass other space agencies in the near future.

He also touched on broader implications of Chandrayaan-3's success, both scientifically and socially. Drawing a comparison, he mentioned how NASA sent humans to the lunar surface 15 years ago to collect soil samples, whereas India achieved a similar feat through remote controllers, underscoring the progress made by the nation.

He urged youths to contribute to India's development, emphasising the role of science in shaping the future.

College Principal Dr. B.R. Jayakumari stressed the importance of recognising scientific achievements, stating, "Just as Panchabhutas (five elements) are essential for a country's development, science is equally crucial for pursuit of knowledge."

The event was attended by Dr. Purnima, HoD of Physics along with faculty, non-teaching staff and students.

'CM's wife had no legal title over 3.16 acres of land'

Senior advocate K.G. Raghavan submits before HC; hearing adjourned to Sept. 9

Bengaluru, Sept. 3 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court yesterday extended the interim stay on trial court proceedings against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah in the alleged Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site scam until Sept. 9.

Raghavan

Justice M. Nagaprasanna adjourned the hearing on the CM's petition for a week, which challenges the legality of Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot's sanction for his prosecution.

Senior advocate K.G. Raghavan, representing Respondent No. 4, Snehamayi Krishna, made submissions when the hearing resumed yesterday afternoon. Raghavan emphasised the philosophy of the Prevention of Corruption Act, stating, "Do not use your public office to obtain an advantage, legal or illegal."

He further explained, "...even if you have used personal influence, not necessarily as a boss, it falls within the scope of Section 7 of the PC Act. The moment you hold public office, it comes with certain obligations and restrictions that do not apply to non-public positions. Therefore, even if you are not directly involved, using your personal influence over a matter in which a decision has been made, and you are a beneficiary, that itself constitutes an offence."

Raghavan urged the Court to view the sanction under Section 17A of the Prevention of Corruption Act not as adversarial but as a measure to ensure probity in public administration and restore public confidence if it has been damaged or eroded.

At this point, the Judge asked, "Where has public confidence in administration eroded?" Raghavan responded, "The very fact that a commission of inquiry has been constituted under the Commission of Inquiry Act indicates an anxiety to investigate this matter, which is of public importance. The Governor's order refers to this concern."

On July 14, the Congress Government constituted a single-member inquiry commission under former High Court Judge Justice P.N. Desai to probe the MUDA 'scam.'

The Judge then questioned, "If something is being inquired into, then why this exercise (sanction for prosecution)?" In response, Raghavan explained, "These are parallel remedies..."

Needs to be investigated

Raghavan further argued that "the fact that the Government itself considers there should be an inquiry into this matter, and that it is of public importance, indicates that there is something that needs to be investigated. The entire allegations involve individuals holding public office."

"In matters of this kind, the Courts must lean in favour of conducting inquiries," he submitted. He also claimed that Siddaramaiah was either Chief Minister or Deputy Chief Minister when significant developments, such as the denotification of the 3.16 acres of land in question, took place.

In the MUDA 'scam,' it is alleged that compensatory sites were allotted to Siddaramaiah's wife, B.M. Parvathi, in an upscale area of Mysuru, which had a higher property value compared to the location of her land that had been 'acquired' by the MUDA.

Raghavan informed the Court that MUDA had allotted plots to Parvathi under a 50:50 ratio scheme in exchange for 3.16 acres of her land, where MUDA developed a residential layout.

Under this controversial scheme, MUDA allotted 50 percent of developed land to the original land owners in exchange for the undeveloped land acquired from them for forming residential layouts. Raghavan also pointed out that Parvathi had no legal title over the 3.16 acres of land.

Guv seeks explanation on allotment of plot to Kharge Family Trust

Bengaluru, Sept. 3- Even as the row rages over KIADB's allotment of a plot to the Trust run by the family of AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge, Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot has sought an explanation from the Chief Secretary over allegations surrounding the allotment of the Civic Amenities (CA) plot to Congress President's Family Trust.

The Governor has asked Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh to give him a factual report based on complaint lodged by Opposition Leader in Legislative Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy (BJP). On Aug. 27, Narayanaswamy had urged Gehlot to dismiss IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge, son of Mallikarjun Kharge, from the State Cabinet on charges of 'nepotism'.

The Siddartha Vihara Trust, founded by Mallikarjun Kharge and chaired by his other son Rahul Kharge, had applied to purchase a 5-acre CA site at the Hi-tech Defence and Aero Space Park at Devanahalli near Bengaluru International Airport earlier this year.

Upon selection, the Trust is paying Rs.14 crore for the land parcel. Minister Priyank Kharge is a Trustee of the Trust, prompting the Opposition BJP to level allegations of nepotism.

Kharge's Trust has got 19-acre land for free: MP Siroya

Bengaluru, Sept. 3- BJP Rajya Sabha member Lehar Singh Siroya yesterday alleged that State Congress Government gave 19 acres of land in Kalaburagi district for free to International Institute of Pali, Sanskrit and Comparative Philosophy, run by the Siddartha Vihara Trust managed by AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge's family.

In an open letter, Siroya said "In March 2014, the Siddaramaiah led Government gave 16 acres of Government land on lease for 30 years to the Institute. In a couple of years, an additional three acres were added to the 16 acre leased property. Finally, in Mar. 2017, all 19 acres were transferred for free to the Kharge family-run Institute by the then Siddaramaiah led Government. An important fact is that Kharge's son Priyank Kharge was a Cabinet Minister then also like now, when the land was granted," while demanding a probe by an independent agency.

Meanwhile, Radha Mohandas Agarwal, BJP General Secretary and In-charge of Party affairs in Karnataka, posted Siroya's letter and demanded that Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, answer these allegations.

Former MUDA Commissioner Dr. D.B. Natesh not suspended in 'Quid Pro Quo': Social activist

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BCT)- Social activist Snehamayi Krishna, who petitioned the Karnataka Governor to sanction the prosecution of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah in the land allotment scam at Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has reacted to the suspension of former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar.

Dr. Natesh

Speaking to Star of Mysore, he said, "many prominent individuals dismissed my accusation that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had illegally obtained a site under the 50:50 ratio as false. However, Siddaramaiah's own Government has provided an appropriate response. The suspension order of former MUDA Commissioner Dinesh Kumar clearly states that the allotment of sites under the 50:50 ratio was illegal."

"While Siddaramaiah claimed that the sites were obtained according to the rules, some great personalities called me a 'rowdy'. It turns out now that my so-called 'rowdy' statement was actually true. The Chief Minister's statement turned out to be false," he remarked sarcastically.

"Now, the distinguished individuals who labelled me a 'rowdy' should answer this. Let's wait and see. The Siddaramaiah Government suspended Dinesh Kumar but didn't touch another Commissioner, Dr. D.B. Natesh, who also rampantly and illegally allocated sites under the 50:50 ratio. Why? Because Natesh allocated sites to Siddaramaiah's family. Dr. Natesh has not been suspended to repay this favour," Snehamayi Krishna said.

Today the fact remains that Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) is a mission unaccomplished. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has accomplished only a part of the Kashmir mission democratically under the Constitution of India. It is yet an unfinished job.

If and when India becomes a third or fourth global military power, the Kashmir job may be accomplished — PoK (Pakistan-occupied Kashmir) will cease to exist and Kashmiri people will unite like Germans united with the breaking down of the Berlin Wall. If it does not happen during Modi's time, let us bide our time for a leader who will deliver — Kalki Avatar, so to say!

Having said this, let us look at the pending jobs Prime Minister Modi is supposed to complete. First he must focus on the middle class people. These are the people who do not belong to the rich class nor to the poor class. They are sandwiched between these two. The rich fend for themselves and the poor are taken care of by the government under its welfare schemes — food coupons, common shelters, doles, affirmative actions, etc.

In India, Modi is already giving free rice, subsidised cooking gas, free medicare (Jan Aushadhi) and many more. In Karnataka itself, we have Siddaramaiah Government that won the election with an absolute majority of 136 seats out of 224 by promising Five Guarantees and is straining to deliver the promises with many defaults. But all the same, the poor are in Siddaramaiah's thoughts.

Now the question is: Who is taking care of the middle class? Middle class comprises government employees (excluding top-end officers), the corporate and private factory workers, white collar employees, the small time traders, shop-keepers and the like.

In India's political ecosystem, it is found that during the election the Congress is supported by its vote-bank which is the fulcrum that tilts the balance in its favour. Similarly, the regional parties have their caste-based voters who tilt the balance in their favour. And as for BJP, it has its own vote-bank, the Hindu urban middle class. Which is why it used to be called the shop-keeper's party, just as Napoleon called England a nation of shop-keepers.

What would Modi do next? Will he deliver all that he promised in his 2024 election manifesto and speeches? My prediction is he will, somehow. After all, this time round, his decision will not be focussed on the next 2029 election but on the safety, security and future of the next generation cutting across the evils of minority, majority, caste, creed, region and religion. Nation first. He would want to leave behind a legacy of strong, united India.

However, Modi has changed this perception and expanded its vote base to include Hindus of all classes and also a sprinkling of minorities and those below poverty line. This was possible because of Modi's power of public speech and charisma which eclipsed the leaders of the Congress and the regional parties across the country. And the result was there before us in the 2014 Parliamentary election and the subsequent two elections.

Now in its third term in office, we are seeing fatigue among those who passionately worked for BJP despite divisive dissenters. But Modi is a strong leader, with his own mind when it comes to upholding the Sanatana Dharma and the interest of the country, Bharat.

A leader becomes strong only when he has a strong team of meritorious individuals. Nehru realised this when he formed his first Cabinet. There were Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, C. Rajagopalachari, Dr. Rajendra Prasad, John Matthai (Finance), Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, N. Gopalaswami Ayyangar and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad to name some. The same could be seen in Modi's choice of Cabinet Ministers. Merit was the primary consideration in their choice. Every other claim to be a Minister is secondary. Like Nehru, Modi has opted for many non-politician Ministers.

No wonder, Dr. U.R. Ananthamurthy, Jnanpith awardee, had misjudged Modi and derisively remarked during the 2014 Parliamentary election thus: "I won't live in a country ruled by Narendra Modi. If Modi becomes the PM, it will be a big shock to me. I won't live." I am quoting from historian Ramachandra Guha's book 'Democrats and Dissenters.' Of course, it was expected of a man who was a member of the Lutyens' Club, despite the rot therein, to say this. Servitude would make any man, intellectual or a commoner, to utter these words to please his benefactors.

In case of Dr. Ananthamurthy, he took a somersault when Modi won the election. Ramachandra Guha writes, "But he (Dr. Ananthamurthy) yet had reservation about what Narendra Modi stood for. Modi wanted 'a strong nation,' while he himself wished for 'a supple nation.'" Probably, the intellectual Dr. Ananthamurthy did not realise that a shift from 'a supple nation' to 'a soft nation' is a natural process in politics endangering the country's security and economy.

History is replete with examples where only strong nations survived while the weak nations became the playground for the strong nations. Even today we are witnessing this phenomenon — in Western Europe and West-Asia. Therefore, with Modi becoming the PM, India was saved from becoming the playground of the mighty countries of the world.

To revert to Modi's gambit in his third term in office, it is in everybody's mind: What would Modi do next? Will he deliver all that he promised in his 2024 election manifesto and speeches? My prediction is he will, somehow. After all, this time round, his decision will not be that of a Politician but of a Statesman. It will not be focussed on the next 2029 election but on the safety, security and future of the next generation cutting across the evils of minority, majority, caste, creed, region and religion. Nation first. He would want to leave behind a legacy of a strong, united India.

Will Modi succeed? Some think, he will if he meets the aspirations of the middle class — low cost quality education, low cost medical care, employment without long waiting period, old age homes to the old and the 'left alone' and more.

Since middle class is BJP's core constituency, Modi must pay special attention to solving their day-to-day problems because, as Leo Tolstoy said, while "All happy families are alike; each unhappy family is unhappy in its own way." If it is so, the law-makers, government servants and the BJP party activists have a role to play in ameliorating the sufferings of these unhappy families.

Another middle class concern is Tax. They are sensitive to paying tax in its direct and indirect forms. Congress Governments were conscious of this sentiment of the middle class, but NOT Modi's BJP.

This has also made the middle class think about its choice when time comes. Disenchantment has already begun. We saw it in 2024 election. Merely offering the arati, prasad and temples to this highly religious middle class, in addition to communal negativity, will not help the middle class at the existential level. Middle class can live in dignity only if they are enabled to save money and gold and the 'middle class' morality. Modi must help the middle class to save gold and money (for the rainy day) and help end the present 'rape culture.' But gold is costly, tax is all-pervasive and sexual assault everywhere.

It is the middle class who form the bulk of the foot-soldiers in the army and it is the middle class that runs the government administration.

First Hill Temple Authority Meeting

"As you are aware, on July 26, 2024, the High Court passed an interim order directing that the Act under challenge shall not be implemented. The Writ Petition is scheduled for further consideration on Sept. 5, 2024, regarding the interim order dated July 26, 2024. In light of this, the proposed meeting on Sept. 3, 2024, violates the said interim order. Therefore, we request that the status quo ante be maintained," the communiqué added.

CM's response: However, responding to reporters in front of his house at Ramakrishnanagar this morning, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said, "Regarding the meeting of the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority, I am holding this meeting legally. A meeting cannot be convened or postponed based on someone's statement. What is more important — MP Yaduveer's statement or the law? I am conducting today's meeting strictly according to the law. The Court has vacated the stay order. Therefore, I am holding the first meeting today," he clarified.

Devotees inconvenienced: Hundreds of devotees who arrived this morning for a darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari faced inconvenience as the Temple gates remained closed.

Initially, the gates were shut following the death of a local villager. Even after the body was moved for cremation, the gates stayed closed. When devotees questioned this, the Police informed them that the Temple was off-limits due to the impending visit of the Chief Minister. Despite numerous requests, the devotees were not allowed entry, even though CM's visit was delayed by over an hour. This delay frustrated the devotees, many of whom had been waiting since early morning. Tempers flared, leading to arguments with Police and special security personnel brought in for the CM's visit.

Finally, the devotees were allowed inside only after the CM left the Temple premises and proceeded to Dasoha Bhavan, where a meeting of Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority was scheduled.

'Transfer all Hill Temple assets to Development Authority'

First meeting of Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority takes major decision on Chamundi Hill Temple properties

Mysuru, Sept. 3 (BLU&BCT)- The first meeting of the Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority concluded with a significant decision to transfer all the Temple's assets — both movable and immovable — including land, religious and facility structures, funds, ornaments, and valuable gold and diamond offerings donated by the erstwhile royal family and devotees, from the Muzrai Department to the Authority. Although the media was barred from attending the 'exclusive' and closed-door meeting, information about the asset transfer was shared with the media afterward.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who chaired the meeting, issued a stern warning that strict action would be taken against those responsible if quality facilities were not provided at the Temple premises.

Greater power

The CM highlighted that while the Muzrai Department had managed the Temple's affairs until now, the formation of the Authority had brought greater power and opportunities for development. He emphasised the goal of providing higher-quality health services and facilities to the devotees visiting the Temple.

The CM also underscored the importance of preserving and enhancing the traditions, history and dignity of the sacred area and the Temple. "The Authority must operate in an organised manner. Meetings should be held regularly, with increased efforts toward cleanliness. Garbage must be removed promptly. With the rise in the number of vehicles, better-equipped parking facilities need to be arranged," he noted.

"There is no shortage of funds for development. Despite providing the requested funds, the work is not progressing at the expected pace. I will not tolerate this. If the work is not completed on time, I will take action without hesitation," he warned.

District In-charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Tourism Minister H.K. Patil, Animal Husbandry Minister K. Venkatesh, Muzrai Minister Ramalinga Reddy, MLAs K. Harish Gowda, G.T. Devegowda, and D. Ravishankar and MLCs Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah, Dr. D. Thimmaiah and K. Vivekananda were among those present.

RTI activist reports

Gangaraju suspects that land-grabbers and others involved in the scam are conspiring against him. He has requested the Police to immediately register a case, investigate the incident and apprehend the culprits.

Gangaraju also mentioned that he had faced similar threats in 2020-21 and had requested Police protection, which was denied at that time.

He stressed that he and his family are currently facing life threats due to his exposure of land scams and has called for Police security for himself and his family. He warned that if anything were to happen to him, the Police would be held responsible.

G.T. Dinesh Kumar suspended

Technical Committee's report

Dinesh Kumar's suspension follows a Technical Committee's report, which probed severe charges against him, including failure to comply with Government directives issued over time.

The detailed suspension order by Under Secretary Umadevi noted that despite being MUDA's Chief Executive and Administrative Officer, Dinesh Kumar did not adhere to Government directions, violating several provisions of the Karnataka Urban Development Authority (KUDA) Act, 1987.

Many of his decisions flouted established rules and the officer neglected several project procedures. The suspension order highlights that during his tenure, housing project procedures were disregarded, with development plans neither prepared nor approved in accordance with design maps before seeking Government approval.

MUDA has been undertaking projects on lands without proper land acquisition or prior Government approval, with officials making unauthorised recommendations and actions for alternative site approvals, contrary to the KUDA Act, according to the suspension letter.

Unauthorised recommendations

In older developed layouts where land was acquired and sites were allotted, there is still no information on compensation disbursement even after several years. Despite this, officials continue to make unauthorised recommendations and actions without proper documentation, the letter noted.

During MUDA meetings on 6.11.2020 and 20.11.2020, resolutions were passed concerning the formation of layouts without proper land acquisition in previously developed areas. It was observed that Dinesh Kumar approved alternative sites or bits of land in violation of these resolutions, without bringing such matters to the attention of the meeting.

Violation under 50:50 ratio

Additionally, a proposal was presented to the MUDA meeting to allot sites in developed layouts at a 50:50 ratio in exchange for land used for various purposes. This action contravenes the KUDA Act of 1987 and the Allotment of Sites Rules of 1991.

The 50:50 ratio rules refer to The Karnataka Urban Development Authorities (Allotment of Sites in Lieu of Compensation for the Land Acquired) Rules, 2009, effective from 30.7.2009. Rule 3(E) mandates that site allotment be conducted via a lottery within the same layout where the land was acquired, particularly for new housing schemes.

Since these rules apply prospectively, they do not cover old layouts developed before 2009. Therefore, any approval of alternative sites for the land acquired before 2009 based on the 50:50 ratio is unauthorised and violates the rules.

Despite having information on site allotments, unauthorised actions were taken without proper verification, potentially leading to legal issues. MUDA has failed to update records on development schemes, including land acquisition, developed sites, corner plots and bits of land. There is no evidence of regular updates and maintenance of these records, which amounts to lapses, as detailed in the suspension letter.

Her husband and his family members, who took her home again after assuring to take good care of her, assaulted her physically, verbally abused her and sent her to her mother's house to bring money.

Its literal meanings relate to heat and light; it describes something that is white or glowing because of great heat, and also something that produces bright light when heated. In figurative use, incandescent relates to several kinds of brilliance. Something or someone described as incandescent can be very impressive or simply happy.
Origin: Incandescent first came to light in the English language toward the end of the 1700s, at a time when scientific experiments involving heat and light were being conducted on an increasingly frequent basis. An object that glowed at a high temperature (a piece of coal) was deemed incandescent. By the mid-1800s, the incandescent lamp—lightbulb—had been invented; it contains a filament which gives off light when heated by an electric current. Figurative uses of incandescent soon followed, and today someone with a brilliant way with words may be said to have an "incandescent wit," while someone positively beaming with joy may possess an "incandescent smile."
Example: "Chang was 31 years old in 1998 when she debuted with Hunger. The reviews were raves, the praise, incandescent. The New York Times profiled her two years after publication as if to observe just how extraordinary the collection and the reviews had been. The critics said often that Chang was writing about lost homelands but you will see that these are stories mostly about the new homeland, not lost at all. These are mostly stories about America, about people who gave up everything to move here only to learn they would need to give up even more." — Alexander Chee.

THE ODD WORD

Nelipot

One who walks barefoot.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Prima Donna

Meaning: The phrase 'Prima Donna' is usually used to describe someone who behaves in a demanding and arrogant way, often expecting special treatment and usually unable to work well with others.
Origin: The first use of the phrase 'Prima Donna' was in Italy in 1782, however back then it was used to refer to the principal female singer in the opera. Around the early 1800's the phrase became a mainstream term in its derogatory connotations, probably because of the stereotypical behaviour of famous opera singers.
Example: "When I served that famous singer in my restaurant, she requested that the chef change almost all the ingredients in her pasta, changed tables 4 different times and then got upset when the main course didn't' arrive as soon as she'd finished her hors d'oeuvre!! She's truly the biggest Prima Donna I have ever met."
